

U. S. Hits Back at Castro's UN Address

By TOM HOGE

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The United States lashed back with a blistering reply today to Fidel Castro's attack in the General Assembly. It accused the Cuban leader of trying to undermine the inter-American system and warning Red intervention in Cuba's affairs.

In a 9,000-word point-by-point rebuttal of Castro's four-hour speech Sept. 26, the U. S. delegation put forth some of the strongest official language yet used against the bearded prime minister. It depicted Castro as a tyrant who denied his countrymen the right to vote in free elections and deliberately sought to worsen relations between the United States and Cuba.

It accused him of:

1. Seeking to provoke an incident over the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo.
2. Refusing to pay a single American landowner for property seized by the Cuban government.
3. Pushing the United States into a sugar embargo so that the Cuban regime could charge its neighbor with economic aggression.
4. Branding all who disagreed with his regime war criminals.

The lengthy statement, submitted to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld described Cuba as a totalitarian state where freedom of expression is suppressed, freedom of religion hampered and the right of free trial denied anyone who differs with the Castro government.

The statement labeled Castro's address a jumble of "half-truths, malicious innuendoes and distortion of history."

Attack on Cuba Envoy Protested

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cuba recalled its consul general from Miami today in the wake of violent outbursts against the Fidel Castro regime by Cuban exiles here.

The consul general, Abelardo Leon Blanco, was hospitalized after a band of Cubans swarmed through his office, smashed the furniture and gave him a beating Thursday. He was released after treatment.

This and other incidents followed the execution of 13 men, including an American, by Castro's firing squads.

Leon Blanco said he had been told to return to Havana immediately. The Cuban government issued a note of protest charging the United States with complicity in the raid on the consulate.

"I am shocked and surprised that this beating could take place in the United States," Leon Blanco said. "No Americans have been hurt in Cuba."

Two men were wounded Thursday night by bullets as fights flared outside a cafe known as a hangout for Castro sympathizers.

A rock was thrown through a window of another restaurant favored by Castro backers.

Police feared there would be other demonstrations against the revival of firing squad justice in Cuba.

Haskell Jones, prominent Presbyterian Layman, will speak at the Spring Hill Methodist Church, James Shaddox, pastor.

El Dorado Faces Transportation Cut

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — An El Dorado Chamber of Commerce official has said the city faces loss of some air and rail transportation service this fall because of a lack of passengers.

T. M. Savory, chairman of the Transportation Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said he has been notified that Trans-Texas Airways will discontinue direct flights from El Dorado to Dallas Nov. 1 because El Dorado had been providing less than half the numbers of passengers necessary to meet the expense of the flights.

Savory said the Arkansas Commerce Commission has set a hearing Nov. 16 to consider a petition of the Missouri Pacific Railroad to be allowed to discontinue its two passenger trains between El Dorado and Gordon, Ark., because of a continued drop in passengers using the service.

Small Damage in Accident Here

An auto driven by Thomas L. Crane of Waterloo, Iowa, and Ralph Montgomery's delivery truck driven by Terrell Martin, collided this morning at Third and Hervey Streets. There was minor damage to the auto. Officers charged Crane with running a red light.

Don't Know Own Handwriting

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Emma Carolan, a stockholder in the bankrupt Arkansas Business Development Corp., said in a bankruptcy hearing Thursday that she did not know if the signature on the back of checks deposited in her account was in her handwriting.

Attorney D. D. Panich presented Mrs. Carolan with cancelled checks and stock subscriptions and asked if the signature was hers. She said it appeared to be but that she did not remember the transaction and that "it's different from the way I ordinarily write."

Panich's questioning concerned her stock transactions and loans she obtained from the ABCD. She admitted she bought 20,000 shares of stock in 1957 for $20,000 and received another 80,000 shares through stock splits and dividends.

Panich contended that Mrs. Carolan signed notes to buy additional blocks of stock and still owed the company $14,414.86. Mrs. Carolan said she didn't accept the stock and didn't owe the money.

Texas Town Hit by a Tornado

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — A tornado smashed through Brownwood's municipal airport building and heavy rains, high winds and hail struck a number of Texas cities Thursday night.

The twister carved in two walls of the new $25,000 airport building and then mowed down a line of telephone poles. Heavy rain and hail damaged autos and homes at nearby Early and Lake Brownwood.

There were no reported injuries. A total of 2.80 inches of rain fell on Dallas, which also had winds in gusts up to 60 miles an hour. Nearby Irving was pelted with hail.

Russia Holds Big Welcome for Nikita

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev returned to the capital by plane today from the United Nations General Assembly meeting in New York.

He was greeted by thousands, many of whom poured out on the airport highway and onto the airfield itself from trucks which carried them from their jobs and homes fully an hour earlier.

He arrived in the Soviet's biggest airplane, bringing with him Janos Kadar of Hungary and a number of other Soviet and Hungarian officials who had been at the U.N. session.

The diplomatic corps, including U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson, came to greet him.

The day was gray and rainy. Khrushchev shook hands warmly with Thompson, laughing as he talked. Correspondents heard him say: "Of course, it was not the same at all," but there was no explanation of what was meant.

Kadar also shook hands with Thompson, but coldly and very briefly. Andrei A. Gromyko, foreign minister, shook hands with Thompson just as briefly and as coldly and moved on down the line of diplomats.

Khrushchev was greeted at the foot of the airplane ramp by former President Klement Y. Voroshilov. They kissed each other and hugged in the Russian manner. Khrushchev then kissed several members of the Presidium and went into Moscow without making the speech so many had expected.

Ike Turns 70, Reports He's 'Feeling Fine'

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower turned a record-breaking 70 today. He smilingly reported he's feeling fine, is somewhat terrified about retiring to private life, but expects to keep very busy.

Eisenhower is the first American president to reach the age of three score and ten while in office. He took no specific note of that achievement in an early round of birthday activities, but impressed all who saw him as being full of vigor and zest for life.

The birthday surprises started just after 8 a. m. when the Army Band, chorists and trumpeters serenaded him on the White House lawn.

The musicians first played and sang "Happy Birthday to You." Then they delighted old soldier Eisenhower by breaking into a sentimental number called "The Dog Face Soldier."

That's a tune of the Army's 3rd Division, Eisenhower's outfit.

"Brother, did they sing that well," the President said later.

A bit later Eisenhower invited newsmen who, cover the White House into his office and he got another round of happy birthday wishes.

Chatting with newsmen Eisenhower chuckled when he was asked how he plans to spend his next 70 years.

Alluding to his retirement to private life when his second term ends Jan. 20, he said "sometimes it's terrifying" to think about becoming a private citizen after nearly a half-century in the nation's service.

He said that recently he has received more requests to make speeches and to serve as trustee of various organizations after he leaves office than he has during posts to be busy as an "ex-president."

With a laugh, Eisenhower said people apparently think he won't have anything to do after Jan. 20.

Without disclosing his plans, Eisenhower left no doubt that he expects to be busy as an "ex-president."

"I'll be back through here (Washington), but certainly not to stay," he said.

When newsmen gathered around him for a group photograph, the President remarked with a grin: "I don't see why, when there's only one gal here, I can't sit next to her."

He was referring to attractive Gwyn Gibson of the New York Daily News, who promptly moved into a chair beside Eisenhower.

Eisenhower also received birthday greetings from a Republican National Committee delegation and from a group representing the GOP presidential campaign headquarters of Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Banker, Planter Dies at Memphis

MEMPHIS (AP) — L. B. Lovitt, widely known business man and director of the Union Planters National Bank since 1932, died at his home Thursday night after a 10-month illness.

Lovitt, 61, was the founder of a cottonseed firm here that bears his name and a partner with his son in a soybean meal brokerage business. He was a past president of the Memphis Board of Trade.

Candidates Disagree on Many Things

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

A wide-ranging third television argument found the two major presidential candidates agreed today on only two subjects: defending Berlin and condemning religious bigotry.

Separated by the width of the continent but brought to a single screen, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy flailed at each other Thursday night on the issues of war and peace, how to stop national emergency strikes, the state of American prestige and the cost of farm programs.

Both sides thought they had won.

Nixon called the encounter "good" fast-moving, a good clash.

Kennedy told reporters: "I thought we touched on important matters that are at issue in the campaign."

One of their sharpest disagreements was over defense of Quemoy and Matsu, two small islands garrisoned by Nationalist China but located within a few miles of the Red Chinese mainland. The issue has mushroomed since their second debate a week ago.

Both agreed the islands should not be yielded under threat of Communist guns. But Kennedy, who has urged efforts to get a Chinese Nationalist withdrawal from the islands, said Nixon was going further than the Eisenhower administration in advocating defense of them.

Nixon contended that withdrawal would damage this country in the eyes of Asia, and said Kennedy's position would encourage the Reds to push to the point "where war is inevitable."

That brought a Kennedy charge that Nixon was distorting the record.

The din was hardly over before Nixon launched a couple of new barbed shafts at his Democratic opponent.

The vice president said he was "shocked" that Kennedy had resorted to written material in the third of their TV debates. Nixon said there was an agreement neither would resort to memoranda.

The Republican nominee also challenged in a statement Kennedy's denial that he had advocated compulsory arbitration as one of the methods of settling a strike such as the paralyzing steel walkout that ended last January.

Kennedy fired back that he hadn't used any notes. He said he read from a photo copy of a letter from President Eisenhower which he contended undermined Nixon's position that the islands of Quemoy and Matsu off China must be defended from Communist attack as a matter of principle.

"If I'm going to quote the President of the United States on a matter involving national security, he should be quoted accurately," Kennedy said.

Nixon's post-debate statement on labor disputes followed up Kennedy's TV assertion that "I never suggested that compulsory arbitration was the solution for national emergency disputes."

Nixon contended that at Fayette City, Pa., on Oct. 9, 1959, Kennedy had urged that the President be given a variety of powers for settling labor disputes and had added "These measures should include mediation, fact-finding, seizure, compulsory arbitration, injunctions with or without retroactive clauses and the right not to interfere at all."

Pirates Hold Big, Noisy Celebration

By GIB STALEY

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Horn blowing, bell-ringing Pittsburgh Pirate fans celebrated until the early hours today in what police said was the biggest, craziest mass demonstration ever witnessed in the Steel City.

Baseball fans who had seen World Series celebrations in other cities said this one beat them all.

The celebration began exactly at 8:30 p.m. Thursday when second baseman Bill Mazeroski, clutching a leadoff homer in the ninth inning to give the Pirates a come-from-behind 10-9 victory over the New York Yankees. The victory gave the pirates their first World Series championship since 1925.

Pirate fans who had waited a long time to celebrate let go with a vengeance. Crowds yelled, firecrackers boomed, air raid sirens screamed, confetti rained and church bells pealed.

In a few hours traffic was jammed hopelessly. Extra police were called out. Beer bottles littered main streets.

Girls grabbed strangers and kissed them. The men got into the streets to kiss strangers. That caused a few fist fights.

By 1 a.m. more than 40 persons had been arrested on various charges as a result of the celebration, police reported. One police officer said: "Most of those arrested were younger people who probably never saw a ball game in their life. They just took the opportunity to show off."

The litter in the streets got so bad water hydrants were turned on to wash down streets.

After-hour clubs were jammed. People were drinking in the streets. Some restaurant owners closed early to avoid possible damage to property.

The situation got so bad police requested radio and television stations to ask residents to stay away from the downtown area.

Cuban Delegate to UN Quits

NEW YORK (AP)—A woman member of the Cuban delegation to the United Nations quit her post today, saying Premier Fidel Castro had turned her country into a police state where the people were living under a reign of terror.

Miss Teresa Casuso, once one of Castro's most enthusiastic supporters, said she had written the bearded revolutionary leader a 15-page letter telling him what she now thought.

To reporters in her apartment, Miss Casuso asserted that Castro's "mind and soul have been affected."

Case Against Trio Dropped

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—U. S. Atorney Osro Cobb today dropped federal charges against three men arrested in connection with an alleged bomb attempt at Philander Smith college for Negroes here last July.

He said he would co-operate in any prosecution in the state courts.

The three defendants are Emmett E. Miller, 44, and Robert Lloyd Parks, 38, both of West Memphis, and Hugh Lynn Adams, 33, of Bassett, in Mississippi County.

Derailment
at Bearden

BEARDEN, Ark. (AP)—Seven cars of a Cotton Belt freight train derailed here Wednesday night. No one was injured, but the track on the main line between Pine Bluff and Texarkana was damaged heavily.

The track was cleared by 4:20 a.m. today.

Railroad officials said the derailment was caused by a journal box failure on a car near the end of the train.

Man Killed at
Dam Site Bridge

HEBER SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Truck driver Calvin Cody, 35, of Casa, Ark., was killed in a bridge construction accident on the Greys Ferry Dam site Wednesday—his first day on the job.

A cable broke as it lowered Cody's truck down a steep embankment on the Edgemont Bridge job. The bridge is one of two which will span the reservoir the dam will create on the Little Red River near here.

1,800 Year Old
Well Discovered

BERLIN (AP)—West Berlin archaeologists have found a well 1,800 years old within the city limits, and in it the remains of a wooden ladder down which housewives climbed with buckets for water. At the bottom were a number of skeletons of mice scientists said dated from about the 2nd century B.C.

Pairs their third year of college under the Reid Hall plan, and return to this country to finish school at an accredited four-year college or university. Private lessons in music and art are included in tuition fees.

Colored slides of the college discussed and its activities were also shown in the school cafeteria, where the entertainment was held. A fall motif was used in the decorations of the serving table, and cold drinks and cookies were the refreshments.

John Cain Chapter of the D. A. R. Meets at Diamond

The monthly meeting of the John Cain Chapter of the D. A. R. was held at the Diamond on October 12, when a group of 22 gathered for luncheon. It was fitting that the meeting of ladies devoted to the American tradition should assemble on Columbus Day.

Cockscorn and cadadium leaves were used as decoration, as well as arrangements of fruit. The program was presented by Mrs. Herbert Stephens, who gave an interesting account of her recent trip to Hawaii.

Hostesses for the luncheon meeting were Mr. Gus Haynes, Mrs. Frank Johnson, Mrs. Richards Howard, and Mrs. Dick Watkins.

DOROTHY DIX

Wife Old Enough to Know Better

By HELEN WORDEN ERSKINE

Dear Helen:
I married at 15 to a man 12 years older. He was in business that he built up to half a million dollars. He drank, ran out with other women and had a child with a girl that worked in his office. He beat me every time he came home. I was so scared.

He went bankrupt. I left, placed my five children with relatives. Six weeks later he came crying and begging to return. The children were small. They needed us. We both went to work in a factory. We bought a house that was partly finished. I worked every night for three years, cleaning offices so we could finish the house.

We built up another business in my name. Once we started having a good income, my husband began drinking heavily. I had no control of him, my children or my business. I found myself drinking, too.

I took off with one of my employees. I needed love. He was separated from his wife seven years and has two daughters. I am in love with him and he with me. My oldest son is 20 and looks after himself. My two oldest daughters are married. My 12-year-old daughter is in a foster home. The two younger ones and a son have gone to relatives.

I want to leave this man as I keep drinking and making a real mess of my life. I could stay at my mother's but should I wait till my baby is born to give it a name? I don't want to give it away but I will not be able to keep it for a while. Should I have this man support it? I hope you can help me bring my life back to a better future. Broken Heart.

Dear Broken Heart: Leave this man at once and start unsharpening your tangled life. With the travail of having another baby ahead, it won't be easy but it is your only salvation. To continue to live with a man who has no regard for your reputation is to loboggon straight to hell on earth.

Every day is a new day. Start a new life tomorrow and be grateful for a mother who has the compassion to help you on the right way.

I am scolding you for your own good. You took charge of your life once—do it again!

Dear Helen:
I am 14 years old, in the eighth grade. Until this semester, I had three girl friends. We came in the same classes and laughed and talked all day. This new semester the four of us had warning some one the answers to a test and did get suspended for 14 days. My three girl friends stopped goofing. Our teachers think I was the troublemaker. The whole class is being punished with more homework. My girl friends talked more than I did. Now parents don't want their kids hanging around with me.

I don't want to go back to school because of my reputation. My parents think I should get a job. I would rather not. But if I have to go back to school, I don't want to go to that one. Can I quit school at 14? —Hopeless.

Dear Hopeless: Running away from a problem won't solve it. Unless you face this unpleasant situation, chin up, head high, it will dog you the rest of your life. Classmates and teachers will remember you as the girl who caused all the trouble, then didn't have the courage to stand up to it. March straight back to your school, see your principal and show him this column with your letter and my reply. If you were in the wrong, admit it. If you weren't, say so. Tell the principal you want to straighten out things with your teachers and classmates. Ask him to help you. This is a serious matter and could make or mar your future.

Dear Helen:
I am a boy 18 years of age and date that steady girl. Although she dates me when I want, I believe her heart is really with another boy. I like her very much and would like for her to feel the same toward me. The other boy does not want to date her. All I ask is for her to forget him. I feel this would be best for all concerned. I do not want to talk to either of them about it, because they do not know I feel as I do. The boy is my best friend. Please help me. —C. H. K.

Dear C. H. K.: You're in a tough spot. Any pressure from you will only alienate the girl. Your best bet is just go on being your nice, natural self. Don't appear too eager but, once in a while, you might make her a special gift—something she wouldn't be apt to have ordinarily. Never mention the other boy, if she should praise him, then change the subject.

Send your problem to Helen Worden Erskine. Be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and address her care of this newspaper. Helpful letters available. Write for "Broken Heart" manees.

Chapter XXIII

Tullio Rosini was as delighted being freed of his charges as he was concerned lest they somehow might have learned a clue or two as to the whereabouts of the prisoners. "Martino's a good boy, but I'm afraid he may have talked too much to his prisoners. They've been teaching him German."

"It's a chance we have to take. Three lives depend on this exchange — and they have already been delivered to the Vatican, where they will have to stay until the Germans leave Rome. And these two are giving their parole not to talk."

"Their parole not to talk! SS officers! The cream of the Nazi zoo—what's their word worth?" "Little, but we have to take it. And you, Tullio, have to get them to sign it. Here it is—drawn up by a Vatican Monsignore."

"And if they refused to give her parole?" Tullio Rosini asked. "That would mean our people would be given back by the Vatican—to their death almost certainly. It would leave us no alternative but to do the same to these."

"Shall I tell them that—if they refuse?" "Yes. But before you go down to them, and before I forget it—we need another dozen of those pigeons. How are they, all right?"

"Fine. Eat like pigs, and some are nesting. I have a hurlap bag that will do to carry them in the luggage compartment of the doctor's car."

Thursday morning, at dawn Major Wolff and Lieutenant Schnegel were driven to the villa on Viale Sartorio by a German car, which had found them wandering along the Via Cassia between the 35th and 34th kilometer stones from Rome.

Oberst himself opened his office door. Wolff and Schnegel, dirty, bedraggled and unshaven, snapped to attention.

"Arch! So they did release you? Are you all right? Did they hurt you?"

"No, mein Oberst."

"Sit down, sit down."

"I would like to explain how we were so unfortunate as to be captured—"

Krafft held up his hand to cut Wolff short. "For the moment I'm not remotely interested in how you were captured. We have troubles far greater than that. Lieutenant, go and bring Major Eggen here."

A more unkempt, disheveled and unimpaired conference of German Intelligence officers was certainly never held. Krafft explained for the benefit of the ex-prisoners the theft and piecemeal return of the homing pigeons. Then he took up the arrival of Hostrup as Wolff's replacement. "He's certainly General Kallenbrunner's personal spy. It is, I am morally certain, a conspiracy to involve me, and all of you, in a treason charge."

"You mean," Wolff interrupted in a terrified voice, "headquarters arranged for the stealing of our pigeons and sent back false American messages in order to frame us?"

"You've caught on, my dear Wolff, with precision and alacrity. The evidence will be that we conspired in the stealing of the birds to facilitate traitorous contacts with the enemy."

"What do you intend to do?" "I propose to meet fire with fire. To go on the offensive. Several of these fires I have already lit: for instance, none of the reports on the pigeon affair have been sent to Milan or Berlin. I literally burned them; my first fire."

He managed a little smile as a show of courage. "Likewise the court-martial proceedings against those responsible through negligence for the theft. And Major Eggen has—shall we say—arranged with these members of this organization that in exchange for dropping these charges, they are prepared to swear that the pigeons were never stolen, and have, in fact, been removed for safekeeping to a secure spot. Within the next 24 hours an appropriate number of ordinary, Italian, barnyard pigeons taken from farmers will be installed there under the corporal who was asleep on duty the night of the theft."

"Yes," replied Wolff, "but this Major Hostrup—"

"We shall come to that in a moment," Krafft glanced knowingly at Eggen. "But first—uh—about your capture. Your being where you had no right to be—your disregard of orders, et cetera—that has all been deleted from the records—another fire. Gentlemen, you were not captured at all. You have been on a serious and dangerous mission which resulted unfortunately in the death of your driver. Any tale of your capture which may have been circulated was merely the cover story to account for your long absence on this mission."

"But Hostrup..." Wolff was worried. "He knows everything—the truth."

"Major Eggen?" — Krafft waved at the rumples figure in pajamas — "will you tell them what we have decided?"

Eggen took two or three deep breaths before he spoke in a low voice. "We have decided, in exchange for saving your lives, that you, Major Wolff, with the assistance of Lieutenant Schnegel, will take care of Hostrup between now and Saturday morning... before General Kallenbrunner arrives."

"You mean—kill him?"

Krafft and Eggen both nodded slowly in the affirmative. (To Be Continued)

Statistics of World Series Unbelievable

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Years from now, when they look back at the 1960 World Series, they won't believe it.

They'll look at the statistics and all the records that were smashed and they won't be able to understand how the Pittsburgh Pirates ever managed to defeat the New York Yankees, four games to three.

They'll thrill at the final game heroics, climaxed by Bill Mazeroski's home run in the bottom of the ninth inning that won the most dramatic finale in Series history, 10-9, and sent all Pittsburgh into one of the wildest and noisiest celebrations ever staged.

They'll admire the courageous comeback of the underdog, "Beat 'em Bucs," but they'll also wonder how a team that was humiliated by such lopsided scores as 16-3, 10-0 and 12-0 could take the proud and mighty Yankees into the seventh game and then beat them with their own weapon—the home run.

They'll look with awe at the all-time record totals of 55 runs and 91 hits by the Yankees, and then note that the Pirates scored less than half as many runs and collected less than two thirds as many hits, and were outscored 10 to 4, yet were able to end 25 years of frustration with a world championship.

"It's not the number of runs you make," said winning manager Danny Mortagha during a lull in the wild clubhouse celebration, complete with champagne, "it's the number of games you win. And we won more than they did."

"I've said all along that this is the tightest ball club I've ever seen," chimed in the captain, Dick Groat. "Our guys never know when they're licked. Nobody gave us a chance after the third game but us. I knew we'd do it."

of Miss Bernice Berryman, Prescott, with Mrs. Earnestine Carter, President, presiding.

Officers for 1960-61 were elected and installed with Mrs. Ethel Bizzell in charge of the installation of officers.

Club Officers—Mrs. C. One new member was unanimously received by the club, Mrs. Velma Smith, a teacher of the 3rd grade in Hopewell Elementary School, Hope.

Mrs. Ethel Bizzell will be hostess on November 14.

Bobkittens Rack Out Nashville

By VINCE FOSTER HOPE STAR SPORTSWRITER

An early touchdown and a late rally of two gave the Hope Junior Bobkittens their fourth win of the season over the Nashville Juniors 20-0. The Bobkittens are still undefeated this year and have added to a undefeated team of last year to give the Junior II consecutive wins.

In the first period, HB Jerry Burnett scampered 61 yards for paydirt. Dan Jones ran the extra point, and the score then and at the end of the first half Hope 7, Nashville 0. The entire second quarter was all Hope, since the Bobkittens threatened several times. They were on the Nashville two yard line at the end of the half.

The Hope Junior Band marched for the first time this year for the entertainment of halftime.

The third period was scoreless, but in the final period the Kittens went wild. HB Richard McDowell scored his 30th point of the year as he drove over from the five. Burnett ran the P.A.T. Then with 15 seconds left in the game, Burnett again scored as he scooted 10 yards. This was Burnett's 3rd touchdown of the year.

Jerry Burnett gained 149 yards in 13 carries, which was almost three times as much as the entire Nashville backfield. McDowell followed him with 90 yards in 14 carries, and this doesn't include a 55 yard run, which was called back by a clipping penalty. The Kittens' out rushed Nashville 293 yards to 56, and out passed them 31 yards to 0. The Bobkittens had 11 first downs but held Nashville to only 2.

Seeing action for the Kittens were: McClary, McDowell, Jones, Burnett, Waddle, Wright, Brown, Gilbert, Caldwell, Marcum, Butler, King, Walker, and Randolph.

because that's the way we've done it all year—coming from behind to win after everybody counted us out.

That's the way it was Thursday. Pittsburgh had slaked Vernon Law, two-time conqueror of the Yankees, to an early 4-0 lead against Bob Turley and Bill Stauford but the American League champs bounced back with a run on Bill Skowron's homer in the fifth and shelved Law from the mound in the sixth with a four-run assault, featured by Yogi Berra's three-run homer off pitcher ace Elroy Face.

It looked as if it was all over with the weeping and wailing in Pittsburgh when the Yankees clubbed Face for two more runs in the eighth to open up a 7-4 lead.

Age is one point against Sten

Now, 12 years after nursing and cajoling that 1949 club to the first of a fantastic run of 10 American League pennants, Casey is on the way out, from all indications.

The master manager, now 70, is back in New York today for a goody meeting with Yankee brass. It comes on the heels of Casey's near-miss for a record eighth world championship in Thursday's disappointing 10-9 defeat at Pittsburgh.

The end of Stengel's half-century in baseball, a career of hope, less futility at times and yet a story of incredible—and indelible—success, may come at a press conference some time next week.

There the Yankees, next week front office does a complete about face plan a polite axing to the old professor, A neat and quick "retirement," with nice-guy Ralph Houk, who has been standing in the wings in the first base coach's box, becoming the 16th manager of the Yankees.

Bobcats Play Host Tonight to Fairview

By VINCE FOSTER HOPE STAR SPORTSWRITER

Tonight at Hammond Stadium, the Hope Bobcats will meet the Fairview Cardinals of Camden in the Cats fourth consecutive game, which will start at 8 o'clock. The Bobcats have won the last four of the games in the Hope-Fairview series with a total of 112 points to the Cardinals' 18. The Bobcats will have to win tonight to stay in the running for the district title, because they have lost two out of their three conference games.

In district play, Fairview is tied with Camden for second in all games this year, and they are fourth in conference games. Presently they have a record of three wins and two losses. The leading Fairview scorer is their 105 pound HB, Stanley Watson, who has 24 out of their total 72 points. Other top scorers include the hard-running 165 pound FB, Robert Mays, and Skilton Payne, a swift 140 pound HB. Fairview also has probably the two best tackles in the district with Bonnie Steelman at 215 pounds and Clifton Broadnax at 180 pounds. Jimmie Bush is the Cardinal QB, and he has a very good running pass. The Cardinal defense stood out well in the Camden jamboree when they held the powerful Smackover squad scoreless, and this season they have allowed 50 points to be scored against them.

For the third week in a row, the Bobcats are hampered with injuries. This week HB Joe Duke and Junior McNatt will be out, and QB Jimmy Lloyd and David Moore will be seeing limited action. HB Ford Ward will replace Duke, and Larry Arnett will be in the other HB spot after missing two games with a head injury. Chuck Beegs and Tony McClary will fill in for Lloyd and McNatt. At present the big Cats are rated 8th in the state AA, but 5th in conference play and 6th in all games in the district.

Coach Pierce made this comment concerning tonight's game, "I'm afraid the boys aren't up for this game enough, and only an all out effort can win this game."

Apparently Casey Is on His Way Out

NEW YORK (AP)—"When I first come to this club," said Casey Stengel, "they tell me I can finish as low as fifth, but no lower."

President Will Serve Under Nixon

NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower has agreed to serve as a "roving ambassador" if Vice President Richard M. Nixon is elected, it was reported today.

The New York Herald Tribune and the New York Times carried the report in dispatches from Los Angeles, where Nixon is on a campaign tour.

A copyright story in the Herald Tribune by Roscoe Drummond said there soon will be an announcement of Eisenhower's willingness to serve in a Nixon administration.

The story said Eisenhower's role would be that of "roving ambassador to the world," and his first assignment would be a worldwide tour of some of the nation's principal allies and of the newly independent nations.

The Times story said Eisenhower has expressed willingness to "serve as a roving ambassador of good will" after he leaves the White House.

The Times quoted an unidentified top-Nixon campaign aide as saying Eisenhower is "passionately devoted" to serving the cause of peace whether in or out of the White House.

These Bettors Were Lucky

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — Police did the betting and it's a good thing for the bettors.

The gambling squad raided two places and took bets over the telephone to determine extent of the operations.

It would have been a good day for the bookies. Lots of bets came in, all on the World Series—and most on the New York Yankees, who lost to Pittsburgh 10-9.

Pears should be picked while still a little green and allowed to ripen in a cell basement.
